

My husband and I had a marvelous experience building our home with DKM Custom Homes. There were many reasons why including:

- Either Jon, Chris or Steve was there every day supervising the work (sometimes all three of them!).
- Any new ideas we had were met with respect, a “let’s see how that could be done” attitude.
- Their punch list at the end of the process was longer than ours. In other words they paid close attention to every little thing that needed to be done and felt it their job to make sure we were happy with the home we were getting. (And we are!)
- The high quality of the subs they have working for them was extremely impressive.
- Goodness and integrity ooze out of the three of them.
